In addition to lectures, the congress will offer a large variety of workshops, which will facilitate unconstrained and familiar collaboration in small groups. The preliminary program and other helpful information can be found on the EMCA website (www.memoryclinics-europe.eu).

We encourage all health care professionals involved in the field of cognition and dementia to join us.

We are eager to meet you in Hamburg on November 18-19, 2016, and we are looking forward to fruitful discussions in an atmosphere of European friendship.
